

Contents

Preface	vii
Cal Jillson
Fighting for Control of the American Dream: Alexander Hamilton, Thomas Jefferson, and the Election of 1800	I
John H. Aldrich
The Election of 1800: The Consequences of the First Change in Party Control	23
William C. diGiacomantonio
“To Make Hay while the Sun Shines”: D.C. Governance as an Episode in the Revolution of 1800	39
Elaine C. Everly and Howard H. Wehmann
“Then Let Us to the Woods Repair”: Moving the Federal Government and Its Records to Washington in 1800	56
C. M. Harris
Jefferson, the Concept of the Modern Capitol, and Republican Nation-Building	72
Catherine Allgor
Federal Patronage in the Early Republic: The Role of Women in Washington, D.C.	102
Cynthia D. Earman
Messing Around: Entertaining and Accommodating Congress, 1800–1830	128

vi Contents

Rubil Morales-Vázquez

Redeeming a Sacred Pledge: The Plans to Bury George Washington in the Nation's Capital 148

Kenneth R. Bowling

Conclusion: The Federalist Congresses 190

Contributors 213

Index 215

