POLISH & POLISH-AMERICAN STUDIES SERIES

This series revisits the historical and contemporary experiences of one of America's largest ethnic groups and the history of a European homeland that has played an important role in twentieth-century world affairs. The Polish and Polish-American Studies Series publishes innovative monographs and more general works that offer new, critical, revisionist, or comparative perspectives in the field. Interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary in profile, the series recruits manuscripts on Polish immigration and ethnic communities and on their country of origin and its various peoples.

FORTHCOMING

THE LAW OF THE LOOKING GLASS

Cinema in Poland, 1896–1939

Sheila Skaff

"The originality of the book lies in its treatment of Polish cinema prior to World War II, about which very little has been written. Moreover, the author draws on considerable research in Polish-language sources, including various film publications, which few scholars have examined."

—Charles O'Brien

TESTAMENTS

Two Novellas of Emigration and Exile

Danuta Mostwin

Testaments presents two novellas until now unavailable in English translation—The Last Will of Blaise Twardowski and Jocasta—powerful vignettes of life in immigrant America.

"Her fiction captures the psychological changes experienced by Polish immigrants, traces circumstances that shaped their lives, and offers philosophical reflections on their existence."—Slavic and East European Journal

THE CLASH OF MORAL NATIONS

Cultural Politics in Piłsudski's Poland, 1926–1935

Eva Plach

"The Clash of Moral Nations is sure to become required reading for anyone interested in 20th-century East European history."

—Brian Porter

In this study of the political culture of interwar Poland, Eva Plach shifts the focus from strictly political contexts and examines instead the sanacja's open-ended and malleable language of purification, rebirth, and moral regeneration.
