

Contents

Contributors vii

Abbreviations ix

Introduction Wilmot James and Linda van de Vijver 1

Photo Essay: Unfinished Business Photos by Geoffrey Grundlingh; text by Pamela Reynolds and Fiona Ross after page 5

Part I: Historical and Comparative Perspectives

1. The Beast of the Past: History and the TRC Colin Bundy 9
2. On the Limitations of Academic History: The Quest for Truth Demands Both More and Less Charles Villa-Vicencio 21
3. The Politics of Memory in Divided Societies Heribert Adam and Kanya Adam 32

Part II: Reflections

4. The Right to Truth Patricia Valdez 51
5. A Diminished Truth Mahmood Mamdani 58
6. Truth without Reconciliation, Reconciliation without Truth Frederik Van Zyl Slabbert 62
7. The Language of Potential Alex Boraine 73

8. Reconciliation in Africa? Jan van Eck 82
9. Neither Dull nor Tiresome Kaizer Nyatumba 88
10. His Name was Henry Albie Sachs 94
11. A Lot More to Live For Dumisa Ntsebeza 101

Part III: Unfinished Business

12. Reparation, Amnesty and a National Archive Mary Burton 109
13. Burying and Memorialising the Body of Truth: The TRC and National Heritage Ciraj Rassool, Leslie Witz and Gary Minkley 115
14. The Amnesty Process Linda van de Vijver 128

Part IV: After the TRC

15. Of Lions and Rabbits: Thoughts on Democracy and Reconciliation Njabulo Ndebele 143
16. The Rule of Law Richard Goldstone 157
17. Fighting Corruption Willem Heath 163
18. The TRC and the Building of a Moral Culture John de Gruchy 167
19. Law, Corruption and Morality Mamphela Ramphela 172

Part V: Building the Assets of the Nation

20. Addressing Poverty and Inequality Francis Wilson 177
21. Educating the Nation Grace Naledi Pandor 185
22. The Second Republic Jeffrey Lever and Wilmot James 191

Endnotes 201

Bibliography 217

Index 224