Contents

Illustrations ix
Acknowledgments xi
Introduction xv

One Angelic Airs, Subversive Songs 1
The Constructions and Controversies of Music in Nineteenth-Century British Society

Two Country-City Strife and Communities of Singing Women 45
Domestic Ballads in the Novels of Elizabeth Gaskell

Three A Subversive Spirituality 77
The Secularization of Methodist Hymnody in Eliot’s Adam Bede

Four Indecent Musical Displays 101
Feminizing the Pastoral in Eliot’s The Mill on the Floss

Five Classical but Commodified 123
Female Confrontations with Professionalized Music in Eliot’s
Daniel Deronda

Six Sexual Songs and Darwinian Dances 149
The Eroticism and Repression of Folk Music in the Novels of Thomas Hardy

Conclusion 183

Notes 189
Bibliography 207
Index 221